Dolomite–carbonate replacement textures in veins cutting Carboniferous rocks in East Fife
Alison Searl (Birmingham, UK) 1
Fluvial, coastal, nearshore, and shelf deposition in the Upper Proterozoic (?) to Lower Cambrian Addy Quartzite, northeastern Washington
Kevin A. Lindsey (Richland, Wash., USA) and David R. Gaylord (Pullman, Wash., USA) 15
Groundwater ferricretes from the Silurian of Ireland and Permian of the Spanish Pyrenees
V.P. Wright (Reading, UK), R.J. Sloan (London, UK), B. Valero Garcés (Zaragoza, Spain) and L.A.J. Garvie (Glasgow, UK) 37
Geochemical and detrital mode evidence for two sources of Early Proterozoic sedimentary rocks from the Tonto Basin Supergroup, central Arizona
Kent C. Condie, Phillip D. Noll, Jr. (Socorro, N.M., USA) and Clay M. Conway (Flagstaff, Ariz., USA) 51
Genesis and significance of the silico-aluminous nodules in the Ordovician of the Montagne Noire and the Massif Armoricain (France)
Jean-François Becq-Giraudon (Orléans, France), Suzanne Bouillé and Jean-Jacques Chauvel (Rennes, France) 77
Calcic paleosols of the Plio–Pleistocene Camp Rice and Palomas Formations, southern Rio Grande rift, USA
Greg H. Mack (Las Cruces, N.M., USA) and W.C. James (Columbus, Ohio, USA) 89
Importance of dust storms in the diagenesis of sandstones: a case study, Entrada sandstone in the Ghost Ranch area, New Mexico, USA
H. Orhan (Konya, Turkey) 111
Hummocky cross-stratified deposits and turbidites in some sequences of the Umbria–Marche area (central Italy) during the Toarcian
Paolo Monaco (Perugia, Italy) 123
Roundness parameters in barrier–lagoon systems in northeastern Shandong Peninsula, China: limitations to environmental discrimination
Wang Ping and Li Congxian (Shanghai, China) 143
Erratum 153
Lower Permian Rotliegend sandstones, southern North Sea: a case study of sandstone diagenesis in evaporite-associated sequences
K. Purvis (Reading, U.K.) 155
The seismic facies of a tidally influenced Holocene delta: Boundary Bay, Fraser River delta, B.C.
H.M. Jol (Calgary, Alta., Canada) and M.C. Roberts (Burnaby, B.C., Canada) 173
Provenance and evolution of Miocene turbidite sedimentation in the central Apennines, Italy
U. Chiocchini (Viterbo, Italy) and N. Cipriani (Firenze, Italy) 185
Characteristics of a Pennsylvanian ravinement surface
Y. Liu and R.A. Gastaldo (Auburn, Ala., U.S.A.) 197
Subaqueous giant (15 m) and supergiant (40 m) dunes from the Lower Permian Vryheid Formation of the Karoo Supergroup, northern Natal, South Africa
A.M. Smith (Durban, South Africa) 215
Depositional sequences from high-concentration turbidity currents, Cretaceous Uhangri Formation (SW Korea)
S.S. Chun and S.K. Chough (Seoul, Korea) 225
Mineralogy and chemistry of the opaques of Cox's Bazar (Bangladesh) beach sands and the oxygen fugacity of their provenance
S. Mitra, S.S. Ahmed (Calcutta, India) and H.-S. Moon (Seoul, Korea) 235
Skeletal aragonite dissolution from hypersaline seawater: a hypothesis
S. Qing Sun (London, U.K.) 249
Rhythmic shelf storm beds: Proterozoic Kaimur Formation, India
C. Chakraborty and P.K. Bose (Calcutta, India) 259
Textural characteristics and interpretation of second-cycle, debris-flow-dominated alluvial fans (Devonian of Northern Scotland)
T. Dec (Glasgow, U.K.) 269
